

American Association of Professional Apiculturists
at American Honey Producers Association in Phoenix, AZ
January 11-12, 2019

AAPA Student Research Scholarship SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Deadline for submission is midnight (U.S. Pacific Time), October 15, 2018

This award is given to recognize and promote outstanding research by students in the field of apiculture. The scholarship will consist of a $1000 stipend presented as a check to the student winner at the ABRC 2019.

Eligibility:

Current undergraduate or graduate students working in North America with Apis are eligible. Nominees or their advisors must be active members of AAPA to be eligible for this scholarship. Recipients of this scholarship will be ineligible for future AAPA Student Research Scholarships.

Proposals:

Each research scholarship proposal must include a curriculum vitae of the nominee, one letter of recommendation, and a summary of the research problem addressed by the student's research not to exceed three pages double-spaced. The summary must include objectives, significance of the research, and methods. Nominees may also include up to two publication reprints, submitted manuscripts or abstracts of theses or dissertations (these however, are not a requirement). The submissions should be electronically sent as PDF files.

Submitting Proposals: Please send your proposal electronically as PDF to:

Ann W. Harman

E-mail: ahworkerb@aol.com

Telephone: 540-364-4660